THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Our Society has been, and will continue to be successful, because every member has forgotten to seek any personal rewards or advantages through its channels, but has striven to serve each other member, and to promote the interests of the entire society and its varied objectives.

In recognition of this fine spirit of helpfulness, I intend to solicit from each and every member suggestions and ideas covering every phase of our activities.

A splendid group of men and women, whose ability and loyalty have been well attested, have agreed to serve as committee chairmen, and, with the officers whom you have elected, will constitute your Board of Directors for the coming year. Names of new officers and committee chairmen appear elsewhere in this issue.

Of prime importance is the selection of speakers, and I am glad to announce that member George F. Blount, former President of the Oakland County Historical Society, has accepted the position of Program Chairman. He will be pleased to receive any suggestions from our members. Let us remember that it is no trouble whatever to obtain speakers. The real task consists in selecting the BEST speakers from the very large number of persons who will readily accept an invitation to appear before our Society.

May I suggest that we maintain a close contact with Societies whose aims are similar to ours, and that we strive to learn from them and from their publications, improved methods which will contribute to our own effectiveness.

In collaboration with other Societies, we should promote various worthwhile projects. For example, may I suggest a movement to standardize the forms used in compiling genealogies, an abolition of fan charts, and a wider use of tracing paper for genealogical trees and other material.

In order to obtain suggestions and counsel, I wrote, in August of 1948, to a number of well-known Librarians and Genealogists. The response was generous and helpful, and I was privileged to read, at our opening meeting of Sept. 11, 1948, noteworthy letters from the following: William B. Brown, of North Adams, Mass.; Richard Le Baron Bowen, of Pawtucket, R. I.; Elleine H. Stones, of Detroit; Bertha Lee Hempstead Benn, of Hartford, Conn.; Gilbert H. Doane, of Madison, Wis.; Fremont Rider, of Middletown, Conn.; and Donald Lines Jacobus, of New Haven, Conn. As soon as I have replied to these letters, it is my intention to turn them over to our editor, Mrs. Raymond Millbrook, with suggestion that permission be obtained from the various correspondents to reproduce portions of their letters.

Sincerely yours,

(signed) Maurice W. Fox,
President

IN JUNE, the Society celebrated to end the year's activities by assembling for the annual picnic at the River Rouge Park. The assembly was held under the spacious roof of the Sorenson House with the social committee and the chairman, Miss Mary Ann Lowell, as hostesses. Abundant food and fellowship made the day a pleasant one.

AT THE SEPTEMBER MEETING, the retiring president, Mr. Shattuck, yielded the gavel to the incoming president, Mr. Maurice Fox, who made a brief address in which he invited aid, advice and criticism. Annual reports were read and other officers installed. Mr. Robinson told of his summer successes on the Waring and Copland line. Mrs. Flora Montayne Osborn, of Ann Arbor talked of her Montayne lines.

Gifts to the Society were as follows:

From Mrs. Walter Bell, a voluminous Bible Record of the descendants of Richard Bell of Maryland, from 1744 to the present.

From Mrs. Charles Overstreet, a copy of "The Benson Family."

From Mr. Donald A. Keefer, a pamphlet on the Battle of Beukendell.

From Mr. Robinson, two volumes - "The Village of Esperance, N. Y." and "Schoharie County Heroes."

These gifts will be placed in the Burton Historical Collection but due to the necessity of cataloging will not be available to members for some time.

Also on display at the meeting was that most readable of how-to-do-it books, "Searching for Your Ancestors" by Gilbert Harry Doane. Bought up to date and given a new format by the University of Minnesota Press, it comes out in a new edition.

THE COMING OF THE SCOT

Cameron McLean

There are two racially different people in Scotland, the Highlander and the Lowlander. The Highlander is mystical, a dreamer of dreams and a seer of visions, self-reliant, proud, courageous, hardy--living a life on the islands off the west coast of Scotland as essentially the same as before history began. The Lowlander is practical, progressive, commercial and much the same in every respect as the average American. The Highlander talks a language entirely his own, GAELIC, while English is the common language of the Lowlander.

The islands of the Hebrides lie separated from the coast of Scotland by forty bitterly cold North Atlantic miles. They are as isolated in the Hebrides as a remote Alaskan outpost. It was here that St. Columba brought the Christian religion to the Western World, two centuries before St. Augustine set foot in Canterbury. The island of Inoa is called THE SACRED ISLE and there is no more thrilling page in all history than the dissemination of Christianity from this island beginning in the year 561. It is to the Scot the second Bethlehem.

The Iona Cathedral in which St. Columba preached is beautifully restored by the British Government. It is indeed your spiritual home. Sixty Scottish kings lie beneath its sod and also Macbeth and his royal victim, Duncan. These islands bear such euphonious names as Mull, Jura, Coll, Tiree, Skye, Colonsay, Staffa, Lewis, Harris and Eriskay. The famous Scottish Harris tweeds are woven by hand on the island of Harris.

Some state that the Scot first came from Greece while other historians claim we are nothing but shipwrecked Scandinavians. In either case we should be perfectly happy. I am not here to state that the Scot discovered America or that he put the salt in the ocean. But one cannot help a sense of pride mingled with awe-inspiring wonder at the part the Scot played at the birth of a nation.

The impact of the Scot upon the history of this land is nothing short of stupendous and it proves that ever since time began the Scot has carried on a sort of personal crusade for liberty, life and the pursuit of happiness, to an enthusiastic degree. He carried from his parent home all the character which makes him a useful, dependable citizen and as a member of society, he cast his gifts upon the altar of a new land with courageous abandon. You have heard people speak, questioning as to how the Irish or the Dutch or the Scandinavians or the Germans would vote at an election. No one ever heard of Scottish people grouping together and voting en masse. No, very definitely they vote American.

The curtain rises on a tragic drama of five ships which sailed from the Port of Leith, near Edinburgh, in the year 1698, carrying one thousand passengers bound for the Isthmus of Panama, under the leadership of William Paterson, founder of the Bank of England. Three quarters of a million pounds was subscribed to make the Port of Panama the greatest in the world, since it was anticipated that all the wealth of the Indies, China, Ceylon and Siam would pass that way and Scotland would vie with London and Paris as a commercial capital.

Stark tragedy stalked the expedition for, after terrible suffering in pestilential ships, enervation by the tropical climate and decimation by disease, great numbers perished as the Spanish natives set upon them.

A second expedition followed all unwitting of the awful experience of William Paterson's group, whose survivors had put off in boats for Jamaica. Four vessels arrived in Panama with several hundred Scots on board. But their provision ship was burned by the Spaniards and after their ammunition gave out, in fighting the Spaniards, they agreed to depart.

Of all these vessels only one reached Scotland. Many of these hardy Scots settled in America and a providential sequel lies in all of these experiences. One vessel named THE RISING SUN made for the port of Charleston, South Carolina and there lay off the harbor awaiting entrance. The minister of the colony in Charleston had died and the Rev. Alexander Stobo was invited to preach to the colony. While the Rev. Stobo and Mrs. Stobo were on shore a hurricane broke loose and all on the ship were lost.

The first contingent of Scots in numbers came early in 1718. These emigrants were not made welcome by the Puritans and found themselves ineligible for citizenship unless they first connected themselves with the State Church. The Scots refused and raised enough money to build their own church but the Puritans, and I quote "gathered tumultuously" and destroyed the structure. Whereupon the Scots submitting in silence moved out from Worcester to the frontier. The Puritans did not further molest them as it was soon discovered that the Scots were their best defense against the Indians. And the Scots performed this distinguished service all the way from Maine to Georgia, always in the front.

Since coming to the United States I have heard frequent use of the term Scotch-Irish. Please let me explain that these people had no Irish blood in their veins. The early settlers were full-blooded Scots and ought to have been named Ulster-Scots, because while their point of departure was Ireland, they were all of Scottish birth and Presbyterians by faith.

Whitelaw Reid states that between 1730 and 1770 at least half a million Scots were transferred from Ulster to the colonies, more than half the Presbyterian population of Ulster at that time. Another authority fixes the inhabitants of Scottish ancestry in the nine colonies south of New England at 385,000. These conclusions find powerful support in the number of distinguished men whom the Scots of Ulster contributed to the Revolutionary struggle.

Out of Washington's brigadier-generals, NINE were of Scots descent. General Rogers Clark who performed one of the greatest military feats in our history - that of the rescue of Kentucky and the whole rich country northwest of the Ohio from which five states were formed - was a Virginia Scot.

When the Supreme Court of the United States was first organized, three out of the four Associate Justices were Scots. When first Chief Justice John Jay left the bench his successor was John Rutledge, a Scot. In Washington's first cabinet there were three Scots. Out of fifty-six members who composed the Congress that adopted the Declaration of Independence, ELEVEN were Scots. It was in response to the appeal of a Scot, John Witherspoon that the Declaration of Independence was signed. It is preserved in the handwriting of a Scot who was then Secretary of Congress. It was first publicly read by a Scot and first printed by a Scot. Patrick Henry, a Scot, set aflame the spark of independence and John Paul Jones, our great naval hero, a Scot, also defended it.

Jefferson traced his ancestry through his mother's family back to Scotland. His education was largely due to two Presbyterian ministers. He went to William and Mary College where his principal teacher was Prof. Small, a Scot. His biographer states "He truly had a Scottish education through his life." Jefferson said of himself, "It was Prof. Small's presence at Williamsburg that probably fixed the destiny of my life."

Andrew Hamilton, A Scot, was selected to draw the plans for the Pennsylvania State House, there being no professional architect in the colony at that time. This building is now known as INDEPENDENCE HALL and the cradle of American liberty. It was here the Declaration of Independence was signed and the Constitution framed. So it was that a Scot not only raised the first voice for freedom of speech in the Colonies but designed the house in which independence was to have its proclamation and its permanent charter.

Alexander Hamilton, the great financial wizard of the Treasury, was also a prominent Scot and his name will live forever in history.

A word might be proper about a fair daughter of Scotland, Mary Murray, who played a romantic part upon the American battlefield. Though her husband, a Quaker, was suspected of being a Loyalist, she was a charming rebel of great beauty. When Washington's troops were retreating across Manhattan Island, (where our skyscrapers now stand) she deliberately detained Cornwallis, his officers and men by her courteous hospitality until the rear guard of Washington's little army could escape to the upper end of the island. On the next day was fought the battle of Harlem Heights, the only successful engagement won by the Americans in New York. There is a movement on foot to erect a monument in New York, to enshrine the memory of this Scottish heroine.

History teems with proof that Scotland's greatest contribution were the types of men of character and high resolve which she sent to our shores. Next to that would be the gift of the Presbyterian Church. Another would be that Gabriel's trumpet, the telephone, that Alexander Bell found in seeking to give better hearing to a few deaf people. Who would dare say that Andrew Carnegie's steel was not the most potent element in building the American continent? And the homes of America have been greatly enriched and made beautiful by Duncan Phyfe's furniture.

It will interest you to know that some of our Negro Spirituals were based upon the themes of the old Scottish Psalms. Dr. Henry Pullen Jackson of Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn., noted authority on the Negro Spiritual, informed me that very definitely the psalms were a great inspiration and influence to the musical heart of the Negro. Scottish slave owners would assemble the family around the table for religious service each Saturday Night much in the same fashion as is beautifully expressed in the immortal poem of Burns, THE COTTERS SATURDAY NIGHT. The psalms which they sang inspired the listening Negroes who would sit outside, and caused them, with their own fertile imagination to make little turns in the music and add an extra note here or there. At that moment A SPIRITUAL WAS BORN.

Cecil Forsyth, the noted English Composer, in compiling his great work on Folk Songs of England and Scotland was compelled to come to Kentucky to obtain the pure unadulterated Folk Song of these countries. Over here in the Appalachian mountains he found he could pick up the broken strands of gold on melodies, which had long since been forgotten in the old world. He brought back these songs to Britain from the mountains of Kentucky and Tennessee to astound the people of Scotland that these vocal gems were being sung and preserved in the mountains of this great land. You will hear Burl Ives and John Jacob Niles sing these songs frequently on the air.

Donald Robertson was one of a group of great Scottish teachers as were also Lindley Murray and McGuffey, whose readers were used throughout the county in the middle of the last century. Did not our Henry Ford come under the tuition of the McGuffey books?

Both Lewis and Clark, who made the memorable expedition to the Pacific in the year 1803 were of Scottish blood. It was a perilous and triumphant achievement which was of great scientific value, bringing as it did the first authentic information concerning that unknown region. Florida was added to the Union in 1819 as a result of the aggressive action of an Ulster Scot, Andrew Jackson, whose father, with his wife Elizabeth Hutchinson, emigrated to America in 1765 from Carrickfergus, Ireland and settled on the border between North and South Carolina. North Texas acquired independence under Sam Houston, also a descendant of Scotland and a great friend of Andrew Jackson. Texas was annexed to the United States under the Presidency of James J. Polk, grandson of Thomas Polk, an Ulster Scot.

Ray Stannard Baker states, "Woodrow Wilson sprang from one of the toughest, grittiest, hardest-knit races that ever trod the face of the earth. On the Wilson side he was Ulster Scottish; on the Woodrow side he was of ancient Scottish lineage. His ancestors, rigidly trained in world of God and mentally prepared to suffer for their convictions, gloried in the sinewy intellectual exercises of their faith, whether they were talking down from the Pulpit or up from the pew."

Each Scottish expedition, brought Doctors, Ministers, Scientists, Explorers and Mechanics. Wherever the Scot went he did two things primarily. He built a Church and erected a School, knowing as he did so that the Spiritual and Educational are the spinal fluid of democracy in the pursuit of life, liberty and happiness.

Such was the dynamic potency of the Covenantor faith. His fate emphasized the peril to which they were daily subjected in our early life as a Nation. They lived with their backs to the seaboard and their faces to the hostile habitations of the Indian. Mid the growing pains of a great people they were truly the spearhead of the white advance. They plunged into the wilderness with as great abandon as their forefathers had done in their own land, taking wives and children with them and begetting others in this unknown land. Perhaps in a true sense they were the FIRST AMERICANS.

When the Scottish fingers of Betsy Ross shuttled stars to and fro to make the first American flag, she sowed into the stars the radiance of the valor of Scottish hearts who had lived and died that Old Glory would ever wave over a free people. No wonder the Scot is proud to be part of the American fabric.

"Not that false pride that dreams content
With what our sires have won
The blood a hero sire hath spent
Still nerves a hero son.
Land of hope and glory Mother of the free
How shall we extol thee who are born of thee
Wider still and wider shall thy bounds be set
God who made thee mighty shall make thee mightier yet."

SOME DESCENDANTS OF RICHARD CHURCH OF PLYMOUTH
Compiled by Elsie E. Perkins

In "Richard Church of Plymouth," by John A. Church, appear the early records of this family, which is a Mayflower line, through the marriage of Richard Church, in 1636/7, to Elizabeth Warren, daughter of Richard Warren, a Mayflower passenger. The early lineage follows:

- I. Richard (1) Church, 1602-1668; m. 1636/7, Elizabeth Warren.
- II. Joseph (2) Church, 1638-1711; m. 1658, Mary Tucker.
- III. Joseph (3) Church, 1662/3-1715; m. 1688, Grace Shaw.
- IV. Joseph (4) Church, 1689-1712; m. 1709, Lydia Randall.
- V. Joseph (5) Church, 1710- ; m. 1731, Lydia Randall "of Dartmouth."

This genealogy is clearly in error in listing the children of Joseph (4), who was born in 1689, married in 1709, and died in 1712; and according to Vital Records of Rhode Island, had Joseph (5) and Grace. But the others, Caleb, Benjamin and probably Margaret and Seth, are the children of Joseph (5), 1710- . Further proof is found in deeds and wills at Little Compton, R. I., and Taunton, Mass., which were studied by Mr. Benjamin F. Wilbour, of Little Compton, co-author of "The Wildbores in America," and an authority on Rhode Island families. Among those deeds and wills are those made by Joseph (3) and his wife, Grace Shaw, by Caleb Church, by Joseph (5) Church and by his son Benjamin (6), whose birth and marriage records have not been found, but whose death and that of his wife are recorded in their family Bible (See Detroit Society for Genealogical Research Magazine, Nov., 1939), making his birthdate June 5, 1740. Descendants of this Benjamin (6) Church and his wife Joanna Wilbor are:

- VI. Benjamin (6) Church, b. June 5, 1740, Little Compton, R. I.; d. Dec. 6, 1831, Dutchess Co., N. Y.; m. 1761(?) Joanna (5) Wilbor (Samuel 4, 3, William 2, Samuel 1), b. May 29, 1732, daughter of Samuel and Elizabeth (Carr) Wilbor. There were, at least, five children; order of birth unknown.
 1. Joseph, m. Mary (7) Wilbor, widow of Samuel Wilbor, daughter of Enoch (6) Wilbor. Mary, b. Oct. 10, 1779; d. July 26, 1840.
 2. Samuel, perhaps the Samuel of Saratoga Co.
 3. Martha, b. Sept. 10, 1770; d. March 27, 1850, Ontario Center, N. Y. Single.
 4. Elizabeth, m. Nov. 23, 1875, Stephen Stringham, in Dutchess Co., N. Y.
 5. Benjamin (7), b. May 8, 1777; d. May 1, 1848; m. March 28, 1813, Delilah Moroy, in Dutchess Co., N. Y.

The will of Benjamin (6) and the deed, relative to the sale of his farm after his death, are on file in Poughkeepsie, N. Y. At least some members of this family were Quakers, probably in "Creek" Congregation. Benjamin (6) served in the Revolutionary War, Dutchess Co. Militia, 4th Regiment.

- VII. Benjamin (7) Church, b. May 8, 1777; d. May 1, 1848, at Ontario Center, Wayne Co., N. Y.; m. March 28, 1813, in Dutchess Co., N. Y., Delilah Moroy, b. Oct. 18, 1789; d. Jan. 2, 1861, Ontario Center, N. Y. There were ten children:
 1. Joanna, b. July 7, 1814; d. Dec. 7, 1867; m. Charles Billings, son of Samuel.
 2. Elizabeth, b. Dec. 7, 1815; d. Jan. 13, 1870, Ontario Center, N. Y. Single.
 3. Jane, b. Nov. 18, 1818; d. July 19, 1819, Dutchess Co., N. Y.

5. Delilah Ann, b. Nov. 30, 1820; d. Feb. 20, 1891, Allegan Co., Mich.
m. Aug. 6, 1843, in Ontario Center, N. Y., Ephraim Perkins,
b. Jan. 1, 1814/5; d. Dec. 30, 1898.

6. Henry, b. Apr. 24, 1823; d. 1868; m. Lusena Strickland.

7. Nathaniel, b. Dec. 28, 1824; d. March 16, 1889. Single.

8. Joseph Randall, b. March 15, 1827; d. Feb. - 1870, in Ontario
Center; m. Zilpha Newberry, b. 1831; d. 1914.

9. Dorcas Louisa, b. Jan. 17, 1829; d. 1905; m. Stephen Hooker,
b. 1835, in England; d. 1916.

10. Catherine P., b. March 2, 1831; d. Nov., 1889. Single.

About 1832, Benjamin (7) and his family moved from Dutchess Co., N. Y. to Wayne Co., N. Y. They went from Poughkeepsie up the Hudson River, by sail boat, to Albany, then by Erie Canal to Rochester. They lived in Penfield and later in Ontario Center. Many descendants are still living in that vicinity.

VIII. Delilah Ann (8) Church, b. Nov. 30, 1820, Dutchess Co., N. Y.; d. Feb. 20, 1891, in Allegan Co., Mich.; m. Aug. 6, 1843, in Ontario Center, N. Y., Ephraim Perkins, b. Jan. 1, 1814/5; d. Dec. 30, 1898. There were six children;

1. Amos, b. Feb. 2, 1845; d. March 30, 1845.

2. Henry C., b. Feb. 10, 1846; d. Dec. 17, 1847.

3. Robert Roswell, b. Sept. 25, 1848; d. July 25, 1892, Boyne City, Mich.; m. Apr. 22, 1873, in Bloomingdale, Mich., Martha Janet Marble, daughter of Samuel H. and Olive (Cooper) Marble. Martha, b. Aug. 27, 1848, Norfolk, N. Y.; d. Jan. 4, 1933, Detroit, Mich.

4. Harriot Louisa, b. May 10, 1852; d. May 4, 1909; m. (1) Lewis Humphrey; m. (2) Elaseo Sherwood.

5. Lucinda Catherine, b. Sept. 5, 1853; d. March 23, 1894; m. Clarence Scott, b. 1861; d. 1898.

6. Alfred Henry, b. Apr. 11, 1856; d. July 18, 1916; m. March 31, 1879, Ella Augusta Haylott, b. Feb. 12, 1860; d. Nov.-- 1945.

Soon after their marriage, in 1843, in Ontario Center, N. Y., Ephraim and Delilah Ann Perkins moved to Michigan. The journey was made by boat to Detroit, then by Michigan Central Railroad to Jackson, Michigan, the end of the railroad. There they hired a man and team to take them to Allegan, where they had bought an eighty acre farm in Trowbridge Township. This was virgin land; no clearing, no buildings - so, for a time, they worked for others until they could make a start on their own place, where they reared their family.

A COUCHMAN FAMILY RECORD
Compiled by Mrs. F. A. Tiedgen

Benjamin Couchman, b. 1793 (?); m. Mary Anner---. (Family legend holds that she was either Indian or of Indian extraction.) They died at their home, near Sumner, Lawrence County, Ill. Benjamin was a private in Capt. Robert Barnett's Company of Kentucky Militia. He made claim for bounty lands, based on service in the War of 1812. He enlisted in Ohio County, Ky., and served as a private from Sept. 1, 1812, until Dec. 23, 1812. For his service, he was allowed forty acres, on his application, executed Nov. 23, 1850, at which time he was fifty-seven years of age and a resident of Lawrence County, Ill. Later, he was allowed one hundred twenty acres of bounty land on his application, executed Mar. 30, 1855, then a resident of Seneca County, Ill. He settled in Lawrence County, Ill., on a farm on the old State road, about three miles northeast of the town of Sumner, where his children were born and reared. On the State road, near Union Chapel, Benjamin rode the Tavern, where the sign read, "White Bread and Chicken Fixings - 50¢. Corn Bread and Common Doings - 25¢." Five children were born to them and they adopted two young boys, George and Elias Claycomb. After the deaths of Benjamin and Mary, the old home farm was left to the adopted sons. Buried at Sumner.

ELLSWORTH RECORD

Contributed by Mrs. E. V. Howlett

The following was probably written by Delia Ellsworth (now dec'd), daughter of Wm. and Ruth (Rose Ellsworth, pioneers of Lyndon Twp., Washtenaw Co., Michigan and now in the possession of their youngest daughter and only living child, Mrs. Alice Kator of Stockbridge, Michigan. It evidently concerns the Ellsworth family. This copy was made for General Richardson Chapter D. A. R. and the Detroit Society for Genealogical Research.

"Pa was born in York State, Orleans Co. His father and mother were born in Pa. Pa's (William) mother's name was Polly Seely before marriage. She had one sister by the name of Deborah. 2 children were left in the house while the rest of the family went to the sugar bush and house caught fire while they were away and burned the two children to death. Pa's mother's sister married a man by the name of Akley. Pa came from York state to Michigan with his folks in '44 at the age of 14 years together with 7 other children - Silenda who was then married, George, Alsine, Wm., Sam, Lee, Warren & Jane, - James & Nelson had come to Mich. about 2 or 3 years before. Think they took a canal at Medina for Buffalo then took the Julia Palmer for Detroit across Lake Erie.

Soon after leaving Buffalo one of the worst storms came up that was ever known before or since. They were in the lake long enough to reach Detroit and then went back to Buffalo for repairs. In the meantime horses and goods had been thrown overboard. Started from Buffalo in the evening---was out all night. The waves wash across the boat. Goods that were in boxes were received in Detroit having floated ashore. One large chest we now have.

From Detroit took cars to Dexter. Two of the old neighbors of James Ellsworth happened to be in Dexter on business and---them home where Bill Green now lives, then went in Johnson house near McIntyre's where the spring is on the hill, lived there one winter when they moved where pa now lives. They built the log house right in the woods. No roads were laid out then."

Martha Leavell-Coats and Descendants

1(10) Martha, youngest child of Samuel and Elizabeth Martindale, was born in Montgomery County, Ohio, Oct. 3, 1817. When less than twenty years of age she was married to Harrison Leavell of Miami County, by whom she had nine children. She was left a widow in the early 1850's. She then married George Coats by whom she had four children. It appears from old letters that have been preserved, that her father, shortly prior to his death in 1858, was much concerned in assisting his youngest daughter to procure a home for herself and her large family. 21/ In her later years Martha went to California and died in that state Mar. 18, 1915, at the ripe age of ninety-seven. 22/

1(10)1. James Washington Leavell, oldest son of Martha, was born Feb. 18, 1837 and died Dec. 25, 1874. On Oct. 13, 1859 he married Mary Jane Enyeart, born Oct. 7, 1844, daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth Enyeart. She died Dec. 29, 1879. They had five children:

SECOND AND THIRD GENERATIONS

John Martindell-Sarah McMillen Line 24/

John Martindell of Huntington Twp., Gallia Co., Ohio, was the shortest-lived of the sons of Lt. James Martindell, but his descendants carrying the family name, continued to live in that township until 1936. In the eight years of his married life he had acquired a farm-home in Section 12 and enough property to pay the debts of his estate and the widow's allowances provided by law. 25/ This showing, under the primitive pioneer conditions then prevailing, indicates that he very likely carried on his affairs with the energy and practicality characteristic of his family. His widow, as a member of one of the earliest pioneer families, had come to Gallia County from Greenbrier Co., Va. when still a child. She reared their children and remained a widow until Nov. 27, 1839 when she married William Vance, and the farm was sold, part of it to an Adney whose family gives name to the county road now passing thatway. 26/

Alvin R. Martindale and Descendants

41. Alvin R. Martindale, eldest son of John and Sarah, born Jan. 16, 1814 in Gallia County, changed the spelling of the family name from that used by his father, and adopted the more common termination "dale." He married in Huntington Township, April 12, 1838, Julia Ann Howell, born in Jackson Co., O., Nov. 5, 1819, daughter of Levi and Janet (Ewing) Howell. 27/ He was a farmer and merchant, but perhaps better known as a carpenter and builder. He excelled in the construction of the fine stairways then in vogue in the better homes of the country and much of his work was to be found in the early Victorian residences of Gallia County. During the Civil War he kept a general store in Ewington village. When Morgan's Confederate raiders passed through Ewington, one of them, weak and ill from typhoid fever, stopped at the store and besought help. Although Alvin Martindale's loyalty to the Union was above question, and two of his sons were then serving in the Union armies, he took in the ailing man, whom he recognized also as a fellow-member of the Masonic fraternity, and his wife nursed him. This angered a couple of neighboring citizens, who however, were known to have hired substitutes for the army, and they came while Alvin, a man of great size and strength, was away and demanded of his wife that she give up "that Reb." Julia bade the agitators to go and catch a rebel themselves if they wanted one; that they would have to go over her body to get this one. 28/

Alvin and his wife were life-long residents of Huntington Twp. and he served the township at various times as constable, clerk, assessor, justice of the peace and trustee. I do not have the date of his death, but his wife, who survived him, died June 16, 1896. They had five children:

- 411. John Alexander Martindale
- 412. William W. Martindale
- 413. Miles Quincy Martindale
- 414. Jennie (Fletcher)
- 415. Virgil C. Martindale

411. John Alexander Martindale of Springfield Twp., eldest son of Alvin, was born March 21, 1839. He taught several years in the public schools and in 1862 enlisted as a private in Co. A. of the 91st O.V.I. for three years. 29/ He is said to have participated in twenty-three battles of the Civil War and, while in service, was promoted to the rank of Second Lieutenant. After the War he resumed teaching, a profession he followed for twenty-five years continuously except for the interruption arising from army service. He married Olive Ruth Wood Dec. 24, 1868 30/, and they made their home in Springfield Twp., Gallia Co., Ohio for some forty years. He was Justice of Peace for the township for 12 or 15 years. He was a man of strong athletic build, six feet three inches tall, and weighed about two hundred pounds. He was well-respected in his community as a man of good intelligence, temperate habits and religious views. 28/ He was the trusted adviser of his mother after his father's death, and looked after her affairs. He and his wife reared ten children:

- 411-1 Edwin W. Martindale, b. Oct. 6, 1869; dentist in Columbus, Ohio.
- 411-2 William Horshol Martindale, b. Feb. 4, 1871.
- 411-3 Blacho
- 411-4 Elizabeth
- 411-5 Ina b. June 11, 1877.
- 411-6 Mary b. Aug. 27, 1879.
- 411-7 John Alvin Martindale b. Aug. 21, 1881.
- 411-8 Hoyt T. Martindale b. Sept. 30, 1883.
- 411-9 Simon Ross Martindale, b. Oct. 15, 1885; civil engineer, Columbus, O.
- 411-(10) Genevieve

412. William Warren Martindale, b. May 26, 1841 enlisted in 1861 in Co. E. of the 53rd Ohio Inf., serving three years and losing one eye. In the early 1880's he served as Mayor of Gallipolis. 29/ The family afterwards lived on a farm in Springfield Twp. where he died. His will was probated Dec. 31, 1887. 32/ He married Lucretia Wood, who with five children survived him.

- 412-1 Emma (order of children in this family not known)
- 412-2 Cynthia Anne b. Nov. 20, 1869; d. Mar. 22, 1892, at Gallipolis, of
- 412-3 Charles H. Martindale - lived in Los Angeles, Cal. typhoid.
- 412-4 Bertha b. Apr. 16, 1874.
- 412-5 Nettie - (Janetta - m. Wilbort N. Ramsey).

413. Niles Quincy Martindale, b. Oct. 7, 1844, was the third son of Alvin and Julia to join the Union Army in the Civil War. He enlisted in the 194th OVI in 1864 and served until the end of the War. Afterwards he lived in Huntington Twp. for several years, and then lived for a while in Vinton Co., O. 24/

414. Jennie Martindale, b. Dec. 24, 1847, was married to William Fletcher, Dec. 28, 1871. 31/ They lived in Wilkesville Twp., Vinton Co., O. She lived to be past 80 years, the last survivor of her family. Further information lacking.

415. Virgil C. Martindale, b. Oct. 4, 1850, lived in Jackson, O. 28/
 415-1 Everett Martindale. Only child known. May have been others.

42. A second son of John and Sarah Martindale (name unknown) was living in Huntington Twp. in 1830 but was not named as one of the heirs in 1837 when the estate was settled. Hence it is likely he died in youth.

43. Martha, daughter of John and Sarah Martindale; b. about 1818. m. William W. Pierce of Gallia Co., O., Jan. 21, 1838. 30/ No further information on this family.

SARAH MAHALA CONDIT AND HER DESCENDANTS 33/

44. Sarah Mahala was born posthumously in 1820 after John's death, and married Daniel Mahlon Condit. After some years in Wilkesville Twp., Vinton Co., O., they became pioneer settlers near Indianola, Iowa. She died Jan. 7, 1899 at Milo, Iowa.

441. Esther, or Hattie Condit, b. in Wilkesville, O. about 1842, taught school for some years after the family moved to Iowa and then married Enoch Trimble.

442. Clarence Milton Condit b. in Iowa, Aug. 8, 1861; d. in West Hope, N. Dak., May 8, 1934. Married Emma E. Turner. Children:

442-1 Margaret Geraldine b. Aug. 6, 1859; m. Dr. Bowie, Physician at the Soldier's Home, Marshalltown, Iowa.

442-2 John Turner Condit, b. Oct. 7, 1883, lives at Seattle, Wash.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

1099: W-9: WASHBURN:- "John Washburn, son of Mary Butler and John Washburn, b. Nov. 20, 1657, married Sarah Cornell. Their son, named John also, married Oct. 14, 1704, Hannah Hallott. This couple crossed Long Island Sound and took up their residence in North Castle, Westchester Co., N. Y. It is their son Richard, b. June 27, 1730 (who married in 1748 Amy Birdsall, b. Mar. 4, 1723, d. Oct. 16, 1812, buried at Chappaqua in the old Burying Ground) that this book has stressed the genealogy of." Richard Washburn Family Genealogy by Ada C. Haight, assisted by Frank C. Lewis, MD.

"Richard Washburn (Joseph, John, John, William) b. June 27, 1730 m. Amy Birdsall. He lived in Mount Pleasant on a farm near the New Castle Border just west of the Pocantica River. The present Bronx River Parkway Extension runs directly through this land which his sons Joseph and Daniel bought from the Commissioners of Forfeiture in 1785. He died before June 5, 1786." Families of Philipsborough by Grenville C. Mackenzie.

The section called North Castle, was, I understand, a part of Philipsburgh Manor in the early days. A part of North Castle is now New Castle. Will be glad to look up further information in the above books if desired.

CORRECTIONS TO PUBLISHED WORKS

"HISTORY OF MACOMB COUNTY, MICH.", published 1882 by M. A. Leeson & Co., Chicago. In a list of early marriages given on p. 283 of this history, the first four marriages are listed as of 1818. An examination of the early marriage records in the county clerk's office from which this list was copied, seems to indicate that the date should be 1828 rather than 1818. The book is labelled "Liber A, Marriage Records of Macomb County (1819-1834) and Cattle Markings." The first marriages in the book are dated 1819 and follow a rough chronology but not an exact one as apparently the ministers and justices of the peace did not send them in for record very regularly. About one-fourth of the way through the book, when three 1830 marriages had already been entered, there is a heading, Marriages by Gideon Gates, J. P. The text then reads "The following is a true account of marriages by me solemnized in the years 1825, 1826, 1827 and 1828." In the list following, the years are marked but once alongside the first marriage in each year. After 1827 comes 1818, where 1828 is expected and there is no further year. It is believed that 1818 was written by mistake instead of 1828.

Support for this belief comes from other passages in the history cited above. The first of these marriages of questionable date, was that of Sylvestre Finch and Almada Webster. On page 697 in a write-up of the Finch family, there is a statement that Sylvestre Finch was born March 1, 1805, that the family came to Michigan in 1824 and that Sylvestre married Almada Webster born March 1, 1810. Although the marriage date is not given in this account, it manifestly was not 1818, but quite probably 1828. Again on page 667, in reciting the history of the Munroe family, statement is made that the family came to Michigan in 1821 and that Freedom Munroe married Mary Cooper about 1827. This is another of the couples recorded as marrying in 1818 when 1828 seems a more likely date. Although similar data for the other two marriages, that are in question, is lacking it seems quite likely that they were of the same year as the two discussed above.

Q U E R I E S

1127: H-3: HEDGES-STILLE-CRAIL:- Charles Hodges and his first wife, Mary Stille, had a son Absolom born 1752, who is said to have married Alice Crail. Absolom owned land at Standing Stone, Maryland, jointly with his brother, Joseph. Wanted the names of Absolom's children with data on them and the date of Absolom's marriage.

1128: H-3: HEDGES-VANMETRE:- Solomon Hodges and Rebecca (VanMetre) Hodges had a son Joshua, born 1744 in Frederick County, Maryland. Would like to have the name of his wife, date and place of marriage, and names and other data on children.

1129: H-3: HEDGES:- Aaron Hodges was born in Berkeley County, Virginia, (now W. Va.) in or about 1790; married Sarah ---; served in the War of 1812; said to have had nine children. Wanted the names of his parents, surname of his wife, Sarah, and names of and data on his children.

1130: H-3: HEDGES-CLELLAN:- Calob Hodges born March 4, 1789, near Georgetown, Maryland, married Mary Clellan on April 7, 1814. His father is said to have been killed while felling a tree sometime before Calob was born. Would like the parentage of this Calob Hodges with date and place of marriage of parents. Would like also names of grandparents, as well as the names of the children of Calob and Mary (Clellan) Hodges with any other possible data concerning them.

1131: P-21: PACKER-THOMAS:- Want parentage of Eli Packer and his wife Annie F. Thomas. Since publication of previous query (see query 1115, May-June 1948 issue D.S.G.R. Magazine) have found cemetery inscriptions at St. Louis, Mich. Eli Packer, born Sept. 27, 1795; died April 9, 1867. Annie F. Thomas-Packer born Feb. 21, 1790; died April 19, 1871.

1132: B-39: GILLESPIE-LEONARD:- Want parentage, date of births and marriage of Jehiel Gillespie and his wife Sally Leonard. Their children were: 1. James, who had four daughters; 2. Catharine, m. ---Bean; 3. Ashman, d. unmarried; 4. Margaret, m. 1st ---Watson, m. 2nd, ---Russell; 5. Samantha (my grandmother) born 1831, d. 1888, resided near Lincoville Crawford Co., Pa.; 6. Calvin; 7. Ira; 8 & 9 Lewis and Louisa, twins. These children were all born at Tokonska, Mich. The family went to Crawford County, Pa. around 1850 but since they do not appear in the 1850 census of Conneaut Twp., Crawford Co., Pa., it is believed that they had returned to Michigan by that time as they did not like Pa. Samantha was m. Nov. 1, 1850 to Henry Baldwin in Crawford Co., Pa. Louisa also came to Crawford Co. and married Joseph Sabins.

1133: Z-1: ROE-SAYRE:- Sarah Roe b. 3 Feb. 1795 Orange Co., N. Y. d. June 1875, m. Col. Wm. Allison 14 Nov. 1812, possibly m. 2nd a Campbell. This Sarah Roe is believed to be a daughter of Timothy Roe and Martha Sayre. Data and ancestry wanted of these three persons. Timothy Roe b. about 1759, was once believed to be a son of James Roe (Great-grandson of David Roe of Flushing, Long Island, N.Y.), but this is now doubted. What Sayre or other genealogy gives ancestry of Martha Sayre?

1134: 7-13: HAMILTON-PECK-ANTHONY:- Correspondence sought with anyone having Digby, N. S. or Hopewell, N. B. records, particularly regarding an Anthony family whose dau. Susan Priscilla was born at Digby, N. S. May 12, 1834. She m. James Newton Hamilton b. Hopewell, N. C. April 27, 1831, son of William and Ruth (Peck) Hamilton. Interested in all families mentioned.

NOTES OF THE SOCIETY

Whoops! The June Notes made a mistake. Leonard Beavis graduated from Mackensie High not Cooley and will go to Michigan and not M. I. T. . . Member Max B. The New Look seemed curiously like the Old Look when the Pittsfield Union Grange of Washtenaw Co. celebrated its 47th anniversary garbed in the fashions of the founding days. Our Mrs. Cone Sperry, a charter member, read excerpts from her history of the organization. . . Wedding Bells at the Shattuck's on Saturday, June 26th when Jeanne became Mrs. Robert Servis. . . Sarah Van Hoosen Jones of the Black Cow, Rochester, and the National Farm and Garden Association announces scholarship awards of the Michigan unit. . . Members contributing manuscript material to the society should specify whether it is to go on to the Burton Historical Collection or be retained in our files. At this time we can not make such material readily accessible to our members except through deposit in Burton. . . Genealogy like travel is so broadening. Mrs. Campbell McCormick reports mail from Dublin, Ireland. Mrs. McGlynn has a letter from Basutoland, South Africa.

The Creative Writer's Club of Pershing High sends in an attractive sample of their wares. Frances Brown Chase is their sponsor. . . New member, J. L. Robinson sends in manuscript material on King, Robinson and Williams lines as well as a most elaborate chart on the William Robinson of Dorchester line. This chart was displayed at the May meeting. . . The membership list, with addresses, in the January-February 1948 issue of the magazine should facilitate correspondence between members who discover mutual interests. . . Says member Florence Roberts after a severe bout with her high blood pressure, "If I can only go to one meeting a month I want to go to Genealogical Research." . . Over at the Historical Society, they call our Mr. Miller "Black Hearse Miller," since he discovered and finagled into the society's possession one of the most magnificent of by-gone funereal coaches. Descriptives run like this; solid ebony, handcarved even to the spokes of the wheels, plate glass, solid silver lamps!

Broad as our membership, the distribution of our magazine is even broader. Miss Irene Dudley maintains a complete file at the DAR library in Tampa, Florida. This library is housed in the first school building in Tampa, restored and maintained by the chapter. . . These days Miss Hathaway's talk runs like the tale of the New Deal spending - into the millions. She is typing the slips making up the magazine's ten year index. . . On July 17th the Detroit Free Press pictured our member, Judge Arthur Gordon, congratulating him on his birthday. . . We admire the good old try Mrs. DeBoos made recently. Remembering the family data pasted in the back of the family clock she advertised in a local Wisconsin newspaper for the owner of the clock. The ad netted two answers remembering the clock but alas, no knowledge of its whereabouts. . . Cemetery searchers this summer were: Mrs. Kresge, Mrs. Kellogg, Mr. Robinson, Mrs. Stones, Mrs. Millbrook, Miss Hathaway, Miss Everham, Mrs. Randall, etc. etc. . . Mrs. Wentink searched records in Ohio; Mrs. Tiedgen in New York. . . We are glad to report that super-duper indexer, Marjoria Beavis, although far from well is back at her old tricks. . . Miss Noyes also on a restricted regime, maintains her genealogical interests. . .

Mrs. Clarence L. Beavis entered the Art Center Hospital, early in September, as a patient. The Society has missed her generous contributions of time and energy, and hopes she may soon rejoin its ranks.
